

RED STAG HUNT IN PATAGONIA

Valid from March to June 2016

Hunting Area:

This hunting area is the best destination for those hunters looking for a mountain hunting trip. During the red deer rut season (March to May) the hunt takes place almost all day long when the stags are roaring in the slopes of the hills. This ranch is one of the very few of Argentina where hunters can book a successful hunt of red stag after the roaring season due of the high number of individuals roaming around our vast hunting area. As for the rest of the species, there is a wide variety of deer and rams roaming around the mountains. The volume and quality of our trophies, the beautiful environment and the challenging hunt made this destination famous around the world.
